SENATORS TO FIGHT FOR FURTHER TIME

ANYTHING FOR DELAY IS THEIR DECISION.

Hill's Resolution to Be Combated in Every Way Possible—An Attempt Will Be Made to Talk it To Death If There Is No Other Way to Be Offered.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The programme in the senate is to fight for time. Every friend of the administration on the floor will try to kill Hill's resolution one way or the other; by talking it to death, if in no other manner. Crisp and the house conferees are circulating another call for a caucus. Nothing but talk is expected this afternoon. The crisis in tariff affairs was reached yesterday, both in the open senate and in the secret councils of the democratic tariff conferees. When the conference closed it was with the understanding that the meetings would be suspended for the present. No time was set for reassembling the conferees to-day or thereafter, and it was felt that no further sessions might be necessary in case the senate acted favorably to-day on Senator Hill's resolution directing the senate conferees to report the situation of affairs. What was of more importance was the feeling expressed by the house conferees at the close of the conference that in case Hill's resolution passed—and they believed it would—the conference would practically be relieved of its work and it would remain only for the house to accept the senate bill as a lesser evil, as they believe, than the McKinley law.

These conclusions were reached after a day of intense excitement among the tariff leaders. The day opened with the senate proposition for free sugar still pending before the conference. Chairman Wilson and his house associates were satisfied that the tender of free sugar was not made in good faith, and they had therefore requested the senate conferees to furnish a poll of the senate showing that if the proposition were accepted it would be adopted by the senate and the bill passed.

The poll was considered as soon as the conferees convened. It disclosed that in the event of the acceptance of the free sugar amendment the bill as a whole would be voted against by thirty-eight republicans and by Senators Kyle, Allen and Peffer (populists), and Caffery and Blanchard (democrats), a total of forty-three votes, or sufficient to defeat the bill. This poll was made on the best judgment of the senate conferees. The house accepted it as showing conclusively that the tender of the free sugar amendment, while made in good faith by the senate conferees, was a means adopted by the conservatives for the purpose of defeating tariff legislation and leaving the McKinley law in force.

At 2 o'clock the conference, or a remnant of it, again assembled, with the Hill resolution and the exciting debate thereon as the main topic among them. Little or no attempt was made to take up items or schedules, the talk being on the sensational general phases just developed and no progress was made up to 5 o'clock, when the conference separated without fixing a time for reassembling.

The house conferees no longer disguised the deep concern they felt over the future of the bill. They had made a rough estimate of the vote on the Hill resolution and they felt it would pass. Under these circumstances they said nothing could be done until the resolution was disposed of. If through some hopeful turn it was defeated, they said, it would leave the conference to proceed, and the contest would be carried on for the Wilson bill. If, however, it was passed, it would practically discontinue the conference. In that event the house men stated with satisfaction they would still be able to avert the complete failure of all the tariff legislation by having the house agree to the senate bill.

Senator Price, speaking of the situation said that for the first time he had to admit the chances for the bill are not good, but he believed the parliamentary tangle would be straightened out so that the senate bill could be passed. "Brushing aside all parliamentary cobwebs," he said, "and using common sense, there is no reason why the house can not at any time concur in the senate amendments and pass the bill. If the senate should now take some further action like indefinite postponement it might complicate affairs."

Chinese Treaty Earnestly Debated. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The senate devoted almost three hours to the consideration of the Chinese treaty in executive session yesterday and adjourned with the understanding that a vote should be taken Monday immediately after the reading of the journal.

WAITING FOR GEN. EZETA.

New York Lawyers Reach San Francisco

Talk of the Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 11.—Gonzalez de Nuesado and Mr. Reubens attorneys of New York, engaged to defend the recent vice-president of Salvador, Antonio Ezeta, have arrived here. They expect the Bennington to arrive to-morrow. The attorneys give their version of the case, with what they expect to do, as follows:

"The vice-president and his three officers took refuge in the United States steamship Bennington off La Libertad about two months ago. They asked to be transferred to one of the steamers of the Pacific Mail company, but the provisional government at the head of which were their enemies made an unofficial demand on the United States for them, charging them with common crimes. The new government had not then nor has it yet been recognized by the United States government and therefore could not entertain the demand.

"We will claim the ex-vice-president and the officers are detained unlawfully and against their will. This will develop one or two things—either the United States is holding them absolutely without warrant or else it has secretly recognized the government and issued the warrant."

Five Hundred Delegates to Meet.

MUNCIE, Ind., Aug. 11.—Muncie is already preparing to entertain another big convention. The second week in October the northwestern branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 11.—Yesterday was one of the memorable days in the history of Des Moines and Iowa. There were 6,000 veterans present and the event was marked with much enthusiasm.

LOSS OF CORN FELT BY FREIGHT MEN

RAILROAD TRAFFIC MAY SUFFER IN CONSEQUENCE.

General Review of the Trade Conditions of the Country—The Outlook Not Materially Changed—Failures During the Last Week as Reported by R. G. Dunn & Co.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

The advance in corn discloses a general belief that the injury to this most important crop has been so great as to affect materially the traffic of railroads, the demand for manufactured products, and the cost of meats for the coming years. Unless the markets deceive and are entirely deceived our country will have to face a real calamity in the loss of something like 500,000,000 bushels of corn and this loss consumers have to share through the advance of 14 cents in two weeks and 9 cents since Friday of last week. Neither official or unofficial statements as yet preclude the hope that the loss may prove less serious, but at current prices 1,500,000,000 bushels would cost as much as 2,000,000,000 bushels would have cost a fortnight ago. Wheat has risen 3½ cents in the fortnight and 2½ during the week, although western receipts have been 5,238,128 bushels, against 3,162,694 last year. Atlantic exports are still about half as large as a year ago, 1,399,486 bushels, against 2,734,784 last year.

Pork products are a little stronger, as is natural. Cotton has twice risen and again declined a sixteenth, with increasing prospects of a very large yield, closing without change for the week.

The Iron and Steel Manufacturer records a great increase of nearly 30,000 tons in weekly output in July and the production is 115,356 tons weekly, about 11,000 tons less than in April, but 8,000 tons more than a year ago, when the prostration had nearly reached its worst. The business in boots and shoes is strong and healthy, though conspicuously confined to medium and low priced articles, such as 75 cent shoes for men's and 55 to 60 cents for women's wear, but shipments from Boston have been, in two weeks, 166,693 cases, against 132,826 last year.

The sale of wool would have been larger, according to reports from the different markets, if there had been sufficient stocks available, but amounting to 7,563,400 pounds at the three eastern markets, against 9,220,700 pounds two years ago. Country holders of wool do not at present appear anxious to let somebody else speculate on its price and are said to be keeping back supplies quite generally, although receipts at Chicago are 4,060,051 pounds for the week, against 1,127,094 for the same week last year.

The failures for the five weeks ending Aug. 1 showed liabilities of $11,144,713, of which $5,626,594 were of manufacturing and $5,220,247 of trading concerns. The failures during the last week have been 251 in the United States, against 394 last year, and 54 in Canada, against 25 last year.

FIRE AT THE KANGLEY MINES.

Flames in the Fan House Rapidly Spread to Other Buildings.

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 11.—Fire destroyed the fan house, engine house and blacksmith shop at the Star Coal company's mines at Kangley last evening. Flames were first discovered in the fan house and soon spread to the other buildings. Such a steam pressure was raised in the boilers that the fan engine ran away, and the big steel fan was burst into hundreds of pieces. One piece struck William Morris, who was standing 200 feet away and nearly cut one leg off, injuring his back and badly bruising his body. The loss will be about $8,000, aside from which the mines will remain idle until a new fan can be put in place.

BATTLE IN PROGRESS IN COREAN WATERS

HARD FIGHTING TODAY BETWEEN WAR-SHIPS.

Few Details Have Been Received at Shanghai—Story of the Causes Leading Up to the Skirmish Near the Palace of Seoul—Present War News.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 11.—A battle is in progress on the Korean coast today but no particulars have been received.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The Pacific mail steamer City of Peking arrived early this morning, fifteen days from Yokohama, bringing advices up to July 24. The Japanese papers give many conflicting dispatches from Korea, but there is little news which has not been anticipated by the cable. Most of the information is from the Japanese correspondents, who send improbable stories. Japan papers publish a telegram from Seoul dated July 27 stating that the Japanese minister urged the Korean government to drive the Chinese soldiers from Asan by force if it really wished to demonstrate that it was an independent state. If Korea did not drive the Chinese from its borders then it had deceived Japan in declaring itself an independent state. The Japan minister pressed the peninsula government to abrogate the existing treaties between Korea and China. Everything was in a critical condition. The father of the present sovereign was likely to accede to power again.

A meeting of the Korean cabinet, which was held in the presence of the king, passed a resolution applying for the assistance of Japan. The following three proposals were made by the Japanese minister to the Korean government: To accept the advice of China, to abandon the dispatch of an ambassador to China annually and to drive the Chinese soldiers from Asan.

Subsequently, under date of July 22, the Japanese minister in Seoul sent the following telegram to his government: The Korean government has refused to accept the proposals of the Japan government, and as it does not appear likely that it will reconsider the matter, it is unavoidably necessary to make fresh resolutions, and thorough preparations have now been made. The Koreans requested the Japanese minister to withdraw the Japanese troops from the country, and also the proposals made by the Japanese government to the Korean government, on the ground that if Korea adopt Japan's proposals other powers will dispatch forces to the kingdom and make similar demands, thereby embarrassing as well as forcing the Korean government to do their bidding. Korea will make the various internal reforms only after the departure of the Japanese troops from Korea. Korea is undoubtedly instigated by China in this course.

The Japan Gazette of July 24 gives the following details of the skirmish near the palace at Seoul: Yesterday morning there was a skirmish between Japanese and Korean troops outside the royal palace at 9 o'clock, and the Korean troops offering resistance there was a fight for twenty minutes, after which the Koreans were dispersed and fifty of their arms fell to Japan troops' hands.

FATAL DUEL IN MEXICO.

Government Officer Verastegui Killed by Congressman Romero.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 11.—In a duel with pistols last evening Senator Jose Verastegui, chief of the government stamp department, was killed by Francisco Romero, a well-known congressman. The seconds of the dead Verastegui were Apolinario Costilla, president of the Mexican senate and editor of El Partido Liberal, and Ramon Prida, a congressman and editor of El Universal. The seconds of Senator Romero were Senor Barrolo, a Spaniard; Gen. Larno Carillo, ex-governor of Chihuahua and a member of the senate.

The duel was the result of a quarrel over a woman. On the first fire Verastegui fell with a ball through the heart and the body was taken to the police station.

It is expected that the plant will be in operation in a few months.

SENATORS SEEK LIGHT.

Hill Asks for a Report from the Conferees.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—There was some lively skirmishing in the senate yesterday over the tariff conference, and everything points to an interesting session to-day. Senator Vest declared that he did not propose to keep quiet any longer and will give his side of the conference disagreement as soon as the opportunity is favorable.

The fun yesterday arose through Senator Hill's attempt to obtain recognition to offer a resolution calling for information as to the status of the tariff conference, which was temporarily crowded out by other business.

While the resolution of Mr. Hill was lying on the table and had not been read Mr. Gray moved an executive session. Few senators voted on the viva voce vote and Hill demanded the yeas and nays. The democrats generally voted for the motion. Several conservative senators voted against the motion. Hill, Murphy, Pugh, Palmer and Gibson voted no. Gorman, Harris and Jones did not vote. Vest voted aye. The motion was lost; yeas 21, nays 32. Senator Hill's resolution requested the senator conferees to report to the senate the principal items of disagreement in the tariff bill, and as to whether an agreement was likely to be reached. Senator Harris stated that the main disagreement was on sugar, coal and iron ore. Objections were made to the consideration of the resolution, as it lacked unanimous consent. Mr. Hill insisted that it was a proper matter for the consideration of the senate at this time. The Vice-President decided that under the rules the resolution must lie over for a day.

Senator Vest said that he was heartily in favor of the resolution. "When it came before the senate to-morrow," he said, "I shall take occasion to make a statement before the senate, which can be done without violation of the conference. It is time, I think that the calcium light of truth be shed on the work of the conferees that the calumnies and false issues which have been heaped upon the conference and sent broadcast over the country be dispelled. With this end in view I will, when the resolution is considered to-morrow, speak of the infamous lies which have been invented and circulated as to the work of the conference on the part of the senate."

Mr. Mills insisted that it would be a breach of the rights of the house to direct its conferees to return the bill. At 2 o'clock the resolution went over and the remainder of the session was devoted to the consideration of the Chinese treaty. The senate adjourned till to-day, although the peace-makers endeavored to have no session until Monday. The prospects are that to-day will be a lively day.

MANY BILLS OUT OF LUCK.

Only One for Building Purposes Is Passed This Session.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—In comparison with its most recent predecessors, LIIId congress bids fair to become noted for its abstinence from public building appropriations. Although two sessions have nearly passed, and although many bills large and small have been reported from the proper committees, but one solitary act has succeeded in passing the gauntlet of objections in both houses and obtaining the President's signature. After the experience of Wednesday, when the house committee on public buildings was given the day and could not succeed in passing a single bill on the calendar, because of the economical tendencies of several members from the south, those who had pinned their faith upon the success of sundry building projects for their districts have abandoned hope of securing anything which involves an appropriation.

IOWA RIDERS GAIN TIME.

Relay Messages Going Across the Hawkeye State at Fast Speed.

OSKAHOOSA, Iowa, Aug. 11.—The Washington-Denver relay riders passed Oskaloosa 23 hours and 3 minutes ahead of time. The Oskaloosa division ended at Prairie City at 7:14 a. m., 24 hours and 20 minutes ahead of time, making 41½ miles in 2 hours and 39 minutes, a gain of 1 hour and 3 minutes. The Ottumwa riders on the last relay into Oskaloosa lost the road and were delayed over half an hour.

The strikers were quieted by the presence of the troops and no demonstrations were made, the workers being allowed to go and return from work without interference. The police say they have evidence sufficient to convict. His motive is not known.

Heat Eats the Corn.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—According to the government crop experts the dry weather and hot winds prevailing in the western states have been eating into the corn crop of this country at the rate of 18,000,000 bushels a day. The unfavorable conditions in the corn belt have pulled down the July 1 estimate of a bumper crop of over two billions to an estimate of 1,563,000,000 bushels Aug. 1. A year ago the August condition was 87 and the yield was 1,619,406,000 bushels. The present estimate is for a yield which compares unfavorably with the crops of the last fourteen years. Smaller crops were made in 1881, 1887 and 1890.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 11.—The long drouth was partially broken in Iowa yesterday. Rain has been falling here since 7 o'clock, but not copiously yet. Reports from other parts of the state indicate rain general. At present indications it will be sufficient to revive crops partially at least.

POST OFFICE WAR STIRS FOOTVILLE

SPEECH AGAINST CATHOLIC SCHOOLS BARRED OUT.

R. O. Shaw Got 1,000 Copies of Congressman Linton's Speech and When They Were Put Back Into the Office for Re-Mailing There Was All Kinds of Trouble.

The A. P. A., Postmaster Dennis Ryan, union labor, Assistant Postmaster General Jones and a lot of other interests are mixed up in a post office case arising in Rock county.

It started in Footville. During the debate on the Indian appropriation bill in congress Mr. Linton made a speech on the sectarian school question, which attracted much attention especially in religious papers and among religious societies. The Chicago Record says:

"It was a forcible presentation of the objections raised by protestant societies to the education of the Indians at the expense of the government by the Catholic church. The speech was hotly condemned by Catholic editors and church authorities; heartily praised by the protestants. So great was the interest excited that more than 1,000,000 copies have been ordered for circulation by the latter, and they have been sent in large bags to different parts of the country for local distribution, all of them bearing Representative Linton's name for free transportation in the mails, as is the custom.

Garlick Got a Big Sack-Full.

"One large sack-full of these speeches was sent by request to F. M. Garlick, at Footville, Wis., where they were seized by the postmaster, Dennis Ryan by name, presumably a catholic. Mr. Ryan refused to distribute these speeches on the ground that the person to whom they were sent in bulk could not remain separately. Mr. Garlick telegraphed Representative Linton, who complained to the third assistant postmaster-general, of Postmaster Ryan's action. Mr. Craig looked up the law, found that the postmaster was wrong, and on July 31 wrote him, saying:

In cases of this kind it is permissible for the party receiving the bulk package to employ others to assist in addressing the individual articles which if properly franked are entitled to free transmission in the mails.

"But Postmaster Ryan still refused to distribute the pernicious document, and obtained a ruling from First Assistant Postmaster General Jones that the speeches were not mailable under a frank because they contained an advertisement.

Union Imprint Rules Out.

"When Mr. Linton learned of this by telegraph from Mr. Garlick he called on Mr. Jones and found to his astonishment that the advertisement objected to was the regular imprinter colophon which the typographical union requires to be placed upon books and pamphlets printed in union offices. It consists of the seal of the Typographical union surrounded by an oval band which contains the following inscription in very small type: "Allied Printing Trades Council" Union Label Washington, D. C., Hartman & Cadick, Printers." The entire label is only about an inch and a half long and half an inch wide in the widest part.

"When his attention was called to the matter Mr. Jones insisted that this was an advertisement in the eyes of the law and would not revoke his order prohibiting the mailing of the speeches under Mr. Linton's frank. But the latter produced speeches by Senator Voorhees, Speaker Crisp, Mr. Wilson, Senator Gorman and several equally well known democrats, which bore the identical trade-mark and had been circulated by the thousands in the mails without objections. He showed, too, that bags containing 50,000 speeches by Chairman Wilson and Speaker Crisp were lying in the post office at that very moment, every one of which was from the same printing office and bore exactly the same advertisement.

Mail Ordered to Be Passed.

"Mr. Jones still insisted that the imprint was an advertisement, but he consented to refer the question to the attorney general for decision, and in the meantime agreed to telegraph instructions to Postmaster Ryan at Footville, as follows:

It is immaterial whether the speeches be presented to you by Mr. Garlick or Mr. Shaw, the frank of Mr. Linton being the material feature required to their free distribution. Pending an investigation of the question involved—in which the advertisement on the back—you will let the speeches go through the mails.

The future action of Postmaster Ryan is awaited with interest, as he is determined not to let a speech that contains an attack on the catholic church be distributed from his office, and the decision of the attorney-general will be of some consequence to the Typographical union which requires the speeches of congressmen to be printed in union offices and bear evidence of that fact. The union will probably ask to be heard on the question before it is decided."

Postmaster Ryan Makes Denial.

"Nearly all the points in the Chicago record article are wrong," said Postmaster Ryan to a Gazette representative today. "The pamphlets were sent to R. O. Shaw and all that he remailed were accepted. He left a basket of them in the village store, however, and anybody who wished took an armful, addressed them and brought them to the postoffice. I told everybody that it would take the responsibility off my shoulders if the packages were all turned in by Mr. Shaw. They refused to do this and I ruled against them. The postmaster at Beloit and Janesville and prominent attorneys in both cities tell me I did right. I have had no instructions on this point as yet. Assistant Postmaster General Jones telegraphed me that the pamphlets were unmailable because of the advertisement. After that I was ordered to accept all franked packages pending an investigation. None have been presented since but I shall certainly obey orders if any are.

"The whole thing started from the boycott on the Footville post office. There is a strong A. P. A. lodge there and not one of the members has mailed a letter or a postal card at the office since I was appointed. They bundle up the mail and sent it to Magnolia and this attempt to stir up a riot over the Linton speech is more of the same sort of work."

SCOTCH GAMES HOTLY CONTESTED

Prizes Were Only Won After Some Stirring Records Were Made.

There were hot contests for Caledonian prize money and some good records were made. The day's sports may be summarized as follows:

A Sound Story.

DR. JNO. HERBERT CLAIBORNE.

The substitution of phosphoric acid for cream tartar or tartaric acid in Horsford's Baking Powder is based upon sound theoretical principle. It is sure that in the present system of manufacturing flour, which is sacrificed to beauty, and the eye of the housewife consulted rather than the interest of the consumer. The most essential and nutritive properties are bolted out, in order to give whiteness and lightness to the bread. This is one reason of so much feebleness amongst the bread eaters, and of so little development of bone and muscle, and of so many false teeth, even among the young. Horsford's proposition is to reconstitute by his baking powder, the phosphates which have been eliminated from the wheat grain in the process of bolting, and to restore these elements to the food of the family in their daily bread. The theory is a correct one, and I trust he may establish the theory proposed.

ABUSERS OF A CHILD TRY TO BREAK JAIL

ESTHER FERRIN'S ASSAILANTS COME NEAR ESCAPING.

Several of Them Sing Loudly While One of Their Number Tries to Pick a Hole in the Wall. Ladder Put Against the Window by People on the Outside.

A very determined effort was made by the several toughs in the jail at Beloit, charged with assaulting little Etta Ferrin, to make their escape last night. The evidence was conclusive of outside assistance. The gang were allowed the liberty of the building and while they all kept up a loud racket and singing one of the number was busy picking a hole through the wall with an iron bar taken from the stove. The officers' attention was first attracted to the attempt by finding a ladder placed against the outside of the building leading to a window, and after the ladder was removed it was almost immediately replaced by some unknown friend of the roughs, on the outside. Friends of young Bundy, who was yesterday found guilty but who was sentenced to only six months in jail, swore he would never serve out even that mild sentence, and were greatly dismayed when informed by the officers late last night that he with the others had been securely locked up in the cells. The officers will make an effort to arrest those who were assisting the gang to escape. The farmers from Shopiere are greatly wrought up over the distasteful work of the gang and the light sentences they are receiving and will hardly tolerate an excuse if the prisoners escape.

"Silver" Wescott, one of the gang, who was discharged a few days ago, is again in the toils on another charge in the same case. It is said the evidence of his relatives, which mainly secured his release, was the most part false, and several new witnesses have been secured that will prove his connection with the crime.

DESERTED AT THE ALTAR.

A Pennsylvania Bride Accepts $10,000 for Her Bridal Certificate.

A romance in which Robert Beale's wife, Lillie, is reported to have received $10,000 to relinquish her marriage certificate and give up all claims upon him as her husband, has just reached a most interesting climax at Cain, Chester county, Pa., says the Philadelphia Record. If the report proves to be correct Beale will doubtless cease to be a wanderer in the West and return to the life of luxury and ease which he formerly enjoyed as a member of one of Chester county's wealthiest families. Robert Beale, who is a man of 50, developed his fascinating romance in the summer and autumn of 1892. He and his equally wealthy brother resided in the mansion on the hill, above Cain station, on the Pennsylvania railroad. They were the chief landed proprietors of the neighborhood. Near their mansion, down in the little village that clustered about the station, was the modest little cottage of Walker, a section boss on the railroad. In Walker's humble home dwelt the prettiest girl in all the neighborhood—Lillie, his daughter—who was sent on frequent errands from the cottage to the mansion. On one of these running visits to the hill the charms of the section boss' daughter attracted Robert Beale.

Subsequently he sought and found many an occasion to meet his charmer, and, finally, one day in October, 1892, the two took a train to Philadelphia, and when two days later, they returned, the one to the mansion and the other to the cottage, Lillie told with pride that she was Robert's bride, and showed her nearest friends the marriage certificate in evidence of the happy union, for to all who heard it the match seemed as improbable as that wedding of poetic fancy in which Maud Muller and the judge were wed. Beale had no sooner claim'd Lillie as his bride than he sought to relinquish her. Again and again she had called at the mansion on the hill, but its doors were closed against her. Mr. Robert had given word that she was not to be admitted, the servants said. Two weeks after the wedding Beale went to Philadelphia, whither he was followed and traced by a detective whom the girl bride had employed. Then he went to Denver, Col., and has since been a wanderer in the various cities of the West. After Robert's mother had died a few weeks ago Lillie attended the obsequies, hoping to find and claim her husband. But he was not there. Since then she has received and spurned an offer of $5,000 to give up her marriage certificate and renounce her bridal claims. Finally, as the impossibility of an intimate renewal of marriage relations dawned upon her, she was persuaded to give up her husband, and thus, it is reported, the settlement for $10,000 came about and Robert Beale is expected home again.

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inaugural speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of "the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

Oh, What a Surprise!

What an agreeable one, too, is experienced by the hitherto misguided individual who has been ceaselessly but vainly dosing for years past in the futile hope of curing constipation, when drastic pills and potions are abandoned for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a faithful auxiliary of nature, which does its work without gripping or weakening, but always effectually. "Throw physic to the dogs!" and use this benign and thorough laxative, which achieves results which astonish as well as those who use it. Not only a regular habit of body, but complete digestion and assimilation are restored by its use. It regulates the liver and kidneys and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. In no case where it is possible to procure it should its use be delayed. Fortify with it against malaria.

In 1837 drought and intensely hot weather prevailed in Northwest India. Over 800,000 persons perished from famine. Similar destruction was wrought by the same causes in 1865 and 1868, over 2,000,000 persons perishing of hunger in the two years.

"What are democratic principles?" asks a headline in an exchange. That is a question that cannot be answered by the smartest man living. What doesn't exist cannot be defined.

Some of the female bicyclists, if newspaper reports be correct, are becoming envious of the showing made by the "living pictures."

Wonder if the coolness between the Senate and the White house had anything to do with those August frosts?

NAILED FAST ON SILKS.

Another Lot of Cheney Brothers Best on Sale Monday.

In every business transaction with the people we propose to be honest and square. We will not do as some do, put deceiving advertisements in our daily papers to try to quell an intellectual community. When competitors were offering, as a most wonderful bargain Cheney's printed silks at 75 cents, we came right to the front and placed on sale thirty pieces at 50 cents. The result was that the ladies of this city showed their usual good sense by buying their dresses of us at 50 cents and letting the "keep the price up" people alone.

When the "keep the price up" people found it was an assured fact that we were selling a pile of these goods, they decided to come down from their high tariff porch and cut the price to 55 cents. That same day our price was made 47 1/2 and the ladies still continued to buy from us leaving the higher priced fellows alone. The result was we cleared out an entire stock before they got started. Now they are crying chestnuts, because they have a big lot of their stuff left and we have cleared ours out.

But, ladies, they are hallooing too loud and too soon. On Monday morning we shall place on sale twenty pieces of new and beautiful Cheney 24 inch best quality printed silks at 47 1/2 cents, also a lot of printed silks at 35 cents, the same stuff the "keep the price up" people are getting 40 cents for. SCHILLING TO TALK HERE ON MONDAY

MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE
SUMMED UP CRISPLY.

Happenings On Janesville Streets Since Morning Are Here Mirrored Accurately for Supper Table Review—Comings and Goings of People Well Known.

ROBERT SCHILLING, the Milwaukee agitator, will address an audience on the silver question and general political issues at Lappin's opera house next Monday evening. Mr. Schilling is now the chairman of the state central committee of the populist and as he has stayed in all the old line parties until he wanted something that he didn't get a finely assorted and peculiarly convincing argument will probably be the result. The speech will be begun at 7:30 o'clock and the lights will not be turned out until the trouble is all over. Everything will be as free as Schillings wants silver and Schillings to be.

DR. R. J. HART was called to Menominee, Mich., yesterday, by news of the drowning of his brother, the only member of his family in America. No particulars were given, except that the body had been found. Mr. Hart was employed by a large lumber firm in Menominee. His duties required that he should be on the water much of the time and it is supposed that he fell off the logs.

HART BROTHERS, at South Main street, have engaged Prof. Marilla, the sleight of hand performer, to give an exhibition at their place to-night. The professor has a wide reputation, and as he has lately devised some new feats, he will display them first at Messrs. Hart's this evening. A good time is anticipated. Free lunch will be served. Everybody invited.

The reputation we have gained as the recognized foot fitters of Janesville is doing us piles of good now. Not a day but some one comes to us with their feet all drawn out of shape by some careless person who could not fit shoes. After we have done our work the person goes away happy and with some money in the pocket. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

The name Majestic is a synonym for that which is grand and good, a fee simple to power, a title to greatness, and the grand Majestic Steel Range is all the same implies. See it, have its many excellent points explained to you. Music at the exhibit from 7 to 9:30 this evening. A. H. Sheldon & Co.

C. & N. W. IS MAKING MANY REPAIRS

"SLOW BRIDGE" IS BEING RE-PAIRED BY STONE WORK.

Wreck Near Clinton Results in the Demolishing of Several Cars and a Brief Stoppage of Traffic—Agent Johnson Ill—General News From Bower City Depots.

It will require several grain sacks full of hard silver dollars to pay for the improvements that the Chicago & Northwestern road are making on the Evansville cut off branch. Ten or twelve carloads of stone are being used each day and sixty-five men are engaged in the work which will occupy them until well along in September.

The principal part of the work is being done on the "slow bridge," four miles from the city. The bridge is a very high one, the bed of the Three Mile creek being sixty feet or more below the rails. The structure was built by setting one row of piles on another and now most of the woodwork is being replaced by stone. The work is in charge of E. M. Sprague, and his men have been at it for six weeks. Stone culverts are also being built along the line. Most of the men employed on the work are from Janesville and Madison.

The Chicago & Northwestern trainmen had to contend with a wreck at Clinton yesterday, but it didn't amount to much, and the train got around it on a siding. Three or four cars were derailed and more or less damaged.

H. R. Johnson, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul agent, was confined to the house by illness to-day.

Charles Logerman, the St. Paul car repairer, who has been confined to the house by illness for some time past, is better.

CALLS ORGANIZED LABOR A MENACE

William L. Mitchell Discusses the Strike From an Unusual Standpoint.

William L. Mitchell of Chicago, well known in this city, discusses the American Railway Union strike in a carefully written Chicago Tribune communication. He argues that organized labor has been and is today a menace to the government and to the people of the United States. His argument is indicated in the declaration:

"The American Railway Union has been for weeks with all its sophistries, subterfuges, and falsehoods, striking at the government, its constitution and laws. Either the government of the United States was to be successful in the recent insurrection or it was to perish and Debs and 'organized labor' would have erected a government to suit themselves upon its ruins."

Come Off the Perch.

SAM GOLDFARB.

It May Be a Fortnight, and It May Be a Year, Says Mr. Welch.

Janesville seems to be far too "easy" to be abandoned hastily by the tent evangelists. As long as $25 installments are plentiful, it would be flying in the face of Providence to seek other fields, and Evangelist Welch suggested as much at Lappin's hall last night.

"We may be here two weeks and we may be here a year," he remarked. "It all depends upon the encouragement we receive. Patients are coming to us from every direction. Three will be here to receive healing in the next few days. I want some of the ladies to throw open their houses to these visitors."

Forty-five women and five or six men took part in the meeting last night. Two dozen more people looked on as spectators. After the services a business meeting was held. A report was made by the canvassing committee that $245 had been subscribed up to date for the purpose of establishing a home. The committee was to have canvassed for two weeks from last Monday and they were continued and instructed to make a renewed effort. Brother Welch said it had been revealed to him that the money would be forthcoming all right, but he did not know whether he should be called upon to conduct the home or that some one else would spring up in the next few days to conduct it.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

Miss Grace Gardiner.

Miss Grace Gardiner died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gardiner Friday afternoon. She was stricken with paralysis Tuesday, soon became unconscious and after lingering two days passed to her heavenly home. She was a lovely christian girl, the light of the household, and her death causes inexpressible sorrow. The family has the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. Miss Gardiner had just passed her eighteenth birthday and gave promise of a long and useful life, and had she lived would have graduated from the high school in '96. She leaves besides her parents, four brothers and sisters.

The funeral will be held from the home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will be conducted by Rev. Richard Miller of Milton. The interment will be made at Emerald Grove.

Come in and compare the best steel range on earth with others on our floor.

Advance.

God gave us power to control our hearts, As we try to fulfill and take our parts.

"Upward" is the motto; we can use no arts As we strive to advance.

We may not succeed in winning a place That is worthy our efforts in the race; But every opportunity we will embrace As we strive to advance.

If a few we win who admire what we do Then not in vain have we offered to you The very best songs from the heart that's true As we strive to advance.

The world is wide—made up of all kind: We aspire to please, though we often find That our clouds are not all silver-lined, As we strive to advance.

But patiently, yearningly, still do our best, Hoping and praying to awake in our breast "Some" response to our credit; then we are blest As we strive to advance.

GRAIN FIRM GOES UP OWING MONEY HERE

BOOGE COMMISSION CO. HOPE-LESSLY BANKRUPT.

L. P. Dearborn Was the Local Representative and He Is Out About $180 Which He Paid to Janesville Customers—Corn Rise Was Too Much.

Owing L. P. Dearborn, their former agent $180 the Booge Commission Company of Chicago, plunged into the hole of business failure.

This hole was deep and black. They owed $40,000 and had $3,500 to square up with.

The money that was due Mr. Dearborn was cash that he had paid Janesville customers on the company's account. A visit to Chicago showed that the loss would be complete. All day yesterday customers sat in the company's office in the Kialto building waiting for the members of the firm to come in and pay them the profits resulting from numerous deals on the long side of corn.

No one in Janesville, except Mr. Dearborn will lose anything.

SHE'LL MARRY ME.

Ah, life looks very bright to me
Since I have heard her say,
With sweet becoming modesty,
She'll marry me some day.

If I will give up smoking;
If I will go to church;
If I cut the club and leave
My best friends in the lurch;
If I will never stay out late,
But hasten home at 9;
If I will let her have her way—
She's promised to be mine!

If I will move to Kensington
And never touch a card;
If I will buckle down to work
And labor long and hard
To buy her stylish bonnets
And gowns and lots of gloves,
Then I may be that happy man,
The lucky man she loves.

If I'll be always pleasant
And never, never scold,
And never make her nurse me
And not grow cross and old,
And always stay good looking—
She can't stand ugly men—
If I come up to her ideal,
Why, we'll be married then!
That's why I am so happy
And why I often cry and sigh,
Unconscious and abstracted—
I'm living in a dream!
She is so sweet and pretty,
And so unselfish too!
I wonder how I won her love—
I can't believe it's true!

MY FIANCEE.

I had been telegraphic operator at
"B station" some six or eight months and had held communication of a purely business character only with the operator at "D" when there came a change. Death silently removed the old man who had been in charge there for so long, and a new operator was installed.

A message spun along the line one February morning in this wise: "Good morning, B." I responded:

"Good morning, D." Then came the information, "The old man died last night, and I have taken his place."

"What is your name?" I asked.
"Nellie Merton. What is yours?" A spirit of devilry prompted my reply:

"Ned Clayborn."

"Thank you," was the concise response. Then a message in real earnest came along the lines, and we were obliged to attend to business. Every day I bade my unseen acquaintance "Good morning" and never closed up at night without a farewell message. A twinge of conscience racked me at times, and a "still, small voice" whispered its warning, but the temptation was too great,
and it was not long before I was sending sly messages, containing a good deal
"atween the lines," to the unseen Nellie. The replies to these messages were guarded, but hopeful, and I grew bolder. It was no end of fun.

She told me her history. She had run away from home because her parents insisted upon marrying her to a man she detested (and the last word came clicking viciously from my end of the line). She would never marry him—never. I advised her not to and hinted at an affection deeper and truer than any the presuming "detested fellow"
could offer.

Well, the outcome of it was that I asked the unseen Nellie to be my wife and even described the little home that was lonesomely awaiting her coming. I was floundering in deep water and could but trust to a kind Providence to pull me out. My "fun" was becoming dead earnest. How I wished the wires stretching between us were telephonic, instead of telegraphic, that I could perchance hear some exclamation or gain some token of how my message was received.
But this was not to be, and I had to possess my soul in patience. That virtue was almost exhausted when the well known call fell upon my ears. I flew to the instrument. It was concise and not very complimentary. "Rather than marry that brute I will risk it."

I was in for it now and must perforce flounder still deeper by sending rapturous messages over the wires. I, Delia Brown, was engaged to be married to a young lady I had never seen. This was forcing the question of woman's rights.
I carried the "fun" on for over three months, and every day it grew decidedly less "funny," until I began to brood over the predicament into which I had giddily led my feet. The time was rapidly approaching when I would have to claim the bride I had won in this novel and romantic manner, and my blood ran cold at the thought of how easy it would be for her to learn of my perfidy, and from all I had seen of her temper I felt sure she would not deal lightly with any one who would dare to play tricks
upon her.

At last I could bear it no longer, and one day, just three weeks before I was to travel to "D" and claim my bride, I boarded the train with altogether another motive. It was to "kiss and make up" after I had begged her with tears to forgive me, etc.

I found a little house, with a little sign in blue and white swinging in the breeze, similar to the little house and the little sign at "B." It was occupied at the time by a young man reading a paper. I looked at him without speaking, and he returned the compliment in kind.

"I wish to see Miss Nellie Merton," I said, and as he did not speak I went on to explain. "I am the operator at
"B" and have an important message,
which must be delivered to her at once.
A moment's delay means"—I paused for a word, and he spoke for the first time.

"So you are the operator at 'B' and desire to see Miss Merton? I am sorry to disappoint you; but, you see, Miss Merton is at home at the present time while I take her place. The fact is she is going to be married and is preparing for the great event. She cannot be seen personally, but if you will intrust the message to me I will deliver it immediately if you will be kind enough to take my place while I run around to her house."

His coolness nearly distracted me.
"I must see her!" I exclaimed excitedly.

"But you cannot," he said coolly.
"I have strict orders not to let any one know her whereabouts for a day or two until these extensive preparations are well under way."

I was on the verge of tears, and with a choke in my voice I cried out, sinking into a chair and holding up my hands
deprecatingly:

"Don't say another word. You will set me wild. If you will not tell me where to find Nellie," I went on in despiration, "will you please tell her this—I have been a bad, wicked girl, and—
and—and—there is no such person as Ned Clayborn? It started in fun, and—and—and—please let me go to her. She will understand me so much better than you can explain it."

"No such person as Ned Clayborn!
My dear young lady, I must beg leave to differ with you. That is the name of the young man who in three short weeks is to marry Miss Merton. Surely he is not dead?" he added in consternation.

"Oh, will you not understand? It was all a joke at first. I thought it would be great fun, and so I—well, I am Ned Clayborn, and after a time we became engaged—all in fun, too." Here I laughed hysterically. "I tried to stop, but I was so wicked I could not, and now poor Nellie will break her heart, and—and—and—" And I broke down and began to cry in a miserable way.

Unlike most men, my companion was not in the least disconcerted at sight of my tears, but simply laughed, loud and long.

Presently the laughter ceased. Then I heard uneasy movements in the chair occupied by my companion. Then he got up and paced about restlessly. Pretty soon a light touch fell upon my arm,
and his voice, very gentle and kind,
said, "Nellie is here to receive your confession and forgiveness." I dried my eyes and looked up, but saw no one but the tall young man, who was looking at me very earnestly.

"Where is she?" I asked, ready to cry again.

"Here," he said, holding out his hand. Instinctively I put mine into it, and it closed over it firmly.

"I also have a confession to make,"
he said earnestly. "I thought you were another young fellow like myself, and wishing to relieve the tedium of these long monotonous days struck up a flirtation. I intended some day to meet the young man and have it out with him,
when you came with your strange confession. In short," he ended abruptly,
"I am Nellie Merton. And you are Ned Clayborn? Come, dry your eyes, Ned.
Your Nellie is not heartbroken at the turn about of affairs."

After staring at him in silent amazement for the space of five seconds the truth of the whole matter began to dawn upon my confused brain. My face grew hot with indignation. I snatched my hand from his and sprang to my feet.

"You are a contemptible fellow!" I cried. He did not reply, but stood looking down at me from his superior height.
"It was a hundred times meaner in you because your object was a woman.
I will never forgive you if I live to be a thousand."

"Isn't that rather paradoxical, considering the fact that you thought I was a woman and you were enacting the role of the sterner sex?" he asked.

"You might have known," I answered severely.
"But I did not," he replied.
"Here is my train," I said shortly.
"Goodbye," he replied, assisting me
on to the train despite my independence and lifting his hat as it pulled out.

I traveled back to "B" a sadder but wiser woman.

"You are a fool," said I to my reflection in the little mirror as I removed my hat.
A year rolled by. I had entirely recovered from my chagrin, and buried in the darkest chamber of my memory was every thought of the tall young operator at "D station."

One morning I was arranging and copying some night messages when a long shadow fell across my papers. A glance upward told who it was. The door of that secret and darkened chamber of my memory flew open, and I knew that the tall young man at "D station" was not as yet quite consigned to oblivion. Standing with hat in hand and without any preface of any kind he said:

"Over a year ago you asked me to marry you, and I consented. I have come to ask: Will you come? Or shall I enter suit for breach of promise?"

What could I do? And, after all, perhaps he would not have made me a better husband had I met him in the old conventional way and waited for him to propose to me.—Ella Terre in Short

Steam Gauges.

A writer in Machinery points out the fact, as ascertained by examination, that but very few steam gauges are correct throughout the whole range of the scale and remarks that in testing a gauge it is desirable to make the pressure at which steam is usually carried the most important point to be determined. A gauge may be correct at low pressure and not so at higher pressures, and the reverse may also be found, especially with gauges that have been in use some time. By many it is not considered advisable to use a gauge for recording pressures as high as that shown on the dial, as few springs will stand such an extension without becoming permanently set, to a certain extent, this being especially the case with the cheaper gauges. It is, according to this writer, not a difficult matter to devise means for comparing with a test gauge any kind of force pump serving the purpose, or the boiler feed pump may be utilized. Again, gauges can be tested by fitting them to a piece of lead pipe, a gauge at either end, the pipe being bent to bring the gauges vertically.

COLD IN THE HEAD

relieved instantly by one application of Birney's Catarrh Powder

Rev. Father Clarke, Sec'y to the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Columbus, Ohio, writes:
"Gentlemen—I cannot say enough for your Powder. It has cured me of an aggravated attack of catarrh when nothing else could help me. Am delighted with it. All my friends to whom I administered samples are quite enthusiastic over it. The good sales speak most encouragingly of their use of it in the hospital under their care. I will do anything to speak a good word for the remedy to help others who are suffering."
M. E. FERGUSON, Custodian U. S. Appraiser's Stores, Chicago, writes:
"Gentlemen—Being almost entirely deaf for a number of years past and getting no relief from many so-called cures which I tried, was induced by a friend to try Birney's Catarrh Powder for my deafness. Have recovered my hearing entirely, so that I can now hear a watch tick plainly, it being held 15 inches from my ear. I took upon it as a positive cure for deafness and have recommended its use to many of my friends and can say I have never heard of a case where it has failed to relieve."

We will give the above to the City Hospital if we cannot show in our store 3 Majestic Steel Ranges that have been condemned and returned---a complete failure for hard coal. All the above were replaced by Garland Steel Ranges.

The City Hospital needs $1500. If our competitors have any sand, let them come down with their stuff or get off the band wagon and give the people of Janesville a rest.

Three hundred landlords own two-thirds of Scotland.

The Sahara desert has an area of 3,000,000 square miles—about that of the United States.

Germans have built in Asia Minor a railroad entirely of iron, including bridges, ties and telegraph poles.

The swiftest regular railroad train in the world is the West Coast Edinburgh express of Great Britain. A seventy-mile-an-hour speed is of daily occurrence.

What is asserted to be the oldest life-boat in existence is preserved at South Shields, England, as a valued relic. It was built in 1830 and during more than fifty years of active service was instrumental in saving 1,028 persons.

Many Americans upon arriving abroad make use of the cable code. The first message usually received by friends, and the one that gives the most pleasure, is that containing the word "ablation," which means—arrived safe and well; good voyage.

It may be of interest to numismatists to know that a large find of Saxon coins was recently made near Douglas, a large town on the Isle of Man. The coins were silver skeatta and date between A. D. 925 and 975. The find is interesting, as specimens of Saxon coins are comparatively scarce.

The actual title of Wilhelm II. is "German emperor," and not "emperor of Germany." The German empire is a confederacy, consisting of four kingdoms, five grand duchies, five duchies, seven principalities and four free cities. Within its own limits each state is sovereign, except as to its army and its power of coining money and imposing duties, in which matters the imperial government controls, as well as in all international matters.

HERE AND THERE.

Some surprising items appear in the published statement of world's fair receipts. One glass company's concessions paid the fair $123,000; the souvenir spoons netted $35,000 and the pop-corn privilege was worth $103,000.

The rushlight or rush candle, which has been the "poor man's light" for many centuries, was prepared by stripping a dried rush of its bark except one small strip, which held the pith together and dipping it repeatedly in the tallow.

The title president occurs in the bible. "It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom 120 princes, which should be over the whole kingdom; and over these three presidents, of whom Daniel was first; that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage."—Daniel vi., 1-2.

Masses of petrified fir wood and bark, which shows the lines plainly marked of the different stages of growth, are reported to have been found in the regular formation of a sandstone reef in the mines at New Castle, Wash. A remarkable point about both specimens is that on the inner side of the bark is a deposit of white crystalline substance, and running in the veins through the wood is the same material. It is harder than steel and cuts glass like a diamond, but it seems to be nothing but crystallized pitch.

In 954 a drought began in Europe, lasting four years. The summers were intensely hot and the famine prevailed everywhere; 3,000,000 died of hunger.

One of the heaviest snowfalls known in this country was February 19 to 24, 1717, when the snow remained five to seven feet deep all over New England.

In 1771 an unprecedented drought prevailed throughout India. Scarcely any rain fell for a year, and hundreds of thousands died of famine, whole districts being depopulated.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system as will be seen by the accompanying cut.

The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force to the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric currents are conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

OUR FALL GOODS ARE ARRIVING FAST.

T. J. ZIEGLER,

Corner Milwaukee & Main.

On Monday Morning...

We will Place on Sale 18 PIECES OF PRINTED SILKS, BLACK GROUNDS AT 35c. These are the same goods that competitors are advertising as Cheney Silks at 40c. These are not Cheney's goods but they are regular 50c silks and we will let them go at 35c, others get 40c.

On Monday morning we will place on sale 20 New Pieces of CHENEY BROS.' GENUINE ARTICLE, Printed Silks in most Beautiful Styles at 47 1-2c, these are new.

We sold out all of the other lot, while competitors were getting 75c we sold at 59c. When they concluded that they could not successfully ask and get 75c while we were only getting 59c, they decided to come down to a cash basis. When they cut to 55c we let them go at 47 1-2c. Our store was crowded with ladies who were BUYING and is it any wonder we cleared out the lot and our competitors had theirs left after ours were gone. Now they continue to ask 55c and howl "chestnuts" at us because our stock was cleared out.

But there is no trouble about our getting the stuff, and Monday morning we shall be on deck with 20 new and beautiful pieces and our price will be 47 1-2c. These silks will be NEW, not "chestnuts." Come to us for them and remember on every line of dry goods from pins to moquette carpets, our prices will be as low and in hundreds of instances lower than anybody else.
